GOD IS LOVE AND NOTHING ELSE.

PRAISE THE LORD.

LETTER FROM GEORGE O. BARNES.

[The friend referred to is "our John," the manager of the Glen Mary Coal Company.]

All this has told upon our friend, and he has a great many gray hairs on his shapely head, that were not there in the earlier years of our acquaintance with him. But he is something, a million of miles higher than the astute and competent manager of a great business enterprise. He is a Christian of the A. 1 sort; far more thoroughly consecrated to his Divine Master than wedded to his earthly calling. That is why we are chiefly proud of him, though we are also glad that he demonstrates to the world that a first-class Christian can also be a first-class business man. Somehow, the devil has succeeded in foisting the idea upon the world that religion rather incapacitates a man for business. And the theory has somehow obtained that the celestial hopes are incompatible with terrestrial success in the lower calling. Never a greater blunder. But I can easily see why Satan has an interest in circulating it. It is on a par with his lie that to be a Christian is to forego earthly pleasure, and be content to get it all in heaven. Well he knows that this will inevitably repel the average human. How many souls these two lies have ruined! But I am straying from the Glen Mary Coal Mine.

Imagine then a carefully planned network of main avenues, side streets and alleys, under ground, right into the mountain's side. The prize is that dark seam of very pure coal; three feet thick; smooth slate above; compact fire clay beneath; both almost as smooth as the ceiling and floor of your room.

A miner's "room" is thus 3 feet high, 18 feet wide and when finished and ready to be remanded to destruction, 200 feet long. As soon as the coal is excavated and removed, the props are knocked out and the "room" vanishes by the simple process of ceiling and floor coming together. Slate and fire clay are married now, which before were separated by that inexorable seam of coal, parting them like a decree of fate. The great mountain top sinks scintilla 3 feet when the whole mine is exhausted, and the excavator man goes off to the next peak to lower it, just so far as it contains what he wants. Wonderful creature is this, "subduing all things," according to the original grant; but slowly and painfully now; so crippled with sin and misery is he. Yet still he reaches out after his "birthright" again, though in an evil hour sold for "a mess of pottage."

Eighteen feet front; 3 feet high; 200 feet back—returning to the miner's room. Twelve feet wall lies between him and his next neighbor. This to furnish proper support; for you must not forget that a mountain top is above, bearing down to crush the presumptuous insect manikins, boring and blasting its "inwards." If you creep into a miner's room on hands and knees, or lying prone in a box truck, as we did, are pushed by friendly hands back to where the strong man is handling his pick, two-thirds of the way of his appointed excavation; peeping cautiously over the side of your "private car," lest you bump your head against the slate roof, by the dim light of two or three greasy little lamps, stuck on the hats of our attendants, we discern a vacant space propped at intervals of 3 or 4 feet, in regular rows, by stout oak sticks, less than cordwood, and securely wedged apart to keep them upright. This the miner carefully attends to as he goes, for his life may depend upon it. This "upper and nether mill-stone" would crush life out instantly, if once allowed to meet.

The room we visited was known as "Levi's room." He was about 150 feet in from his particular avenue—No. 7, or some other; all are numbered—working patiently back to his appointed 200; then to burrow back to the avenue; removing the wall of 12 feet support as he comes, and propping with his 3 feet supports in 3 feet rows as fast as he excavates coal. The task of knocking out props, when all is cleared out, is entrusted to picked men of full experience; for it is a work of much peril when unskillfully attempted.

Levi is a fine specimen of the colored race. Long before we saw him, we heard him, singing after the wailing, dimi-semi-quaver fashion of his people. The effect was wonderful. The lonely, but musical voice reverberated among the many-pillared recesses of his low-ceiled temple; and the weird cadences of "a song without words" came floating out of the ghostly recesses with a melody all its own. By and by we saw the singer, a very Cyclops, half lying on his side, his left arm a pivot, resting in the curve of his left leg, at the knee joint; the muscular right dealing quick, sharp blows at the lowest joint of the coal seam, making the "slack" or coal splinters fly, like a shower, in every direction. For this must needs be the first thing done. A horizontal cavity of a few inches, to furnish space for wedging out what lies above is a sine qua non. We soon tired of watching this indispensable but tedious process.

"Can you show us how you get out the big pieces, uncle?" inquired one of the girls.

"Oh, yes, marm; a little higher up in the room, whar I give it a 'shot' last night and shuck it up, like, I'll show you." He crawled up a few yards into the gloom and began with nervous blows at a superincumbent mass. Soon, with a rumble, as if the mountain were tumbling down, the great, shining blocks of coal came bounding out upon the floor, and in five minutes he had half a ton of the "gens of the mountain" strewing the fire clay and ready for loading on the empty car. But this magical result was the outcome of peckings innumerable the day before, aided by the blast—that miners call a "shot"—the previous night. It was all "shuck up" and ready, like a ripe pear, to drop at the first touch.

"Don't you get lonesome, Uncle Levi?" Marie inquired. "Oh, no, marm; I never gets lonely in de bank." We felt the power of his words. The man who could sing the "Songs of Zion" there, and commune with his Savior in this quiet of darkness, where no sounds but those of his own voice and his ringing pick were heard, was a new specimen of the genus homo to us.

John told us Levi was one of the best men; a very consistent Christian and universally respected by his mates. That evening I noticed his grave, thoughtful face at the meeting. He is a regular attendant. I hope I can give him, in the full gospel, a new and better God, who will be dearer to him in his toilsome life beneath the ground, as the days go by, than are all nights to him.

There is something more pathetic, every time I think of it, in this life in the dark, where the eye is so seldom greeted by God's blessed sunlight. To one who shudders at the gloom and hastens to regain the outer radiance, it almost seems next to blindness, to live this darkened life, in the flicker of one little oil lamp. And that goes out not infrequently.

"Sometimes mine goes out," said Levi, to us inquiring, "and if I've forgot to bring matches, as I have done once or twice; why, then, I have to feel my way out till I can find a mate. Once I went all of de way out of de bank widout any liht, 'jes feelin' along'."

"Good-bye Levi," "good-bye marm; good-bye sir; good-bye Mr. Clarke," he finished up with, for he loves his employer as a man and Christian and never forgets his "manners" with him; and we came out of his room crouching in our "carriages," with a new lesson of this wondrous life we all live.

Ever in Jesus, Geo. O. Barnes.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Election day was very quiet; it scarcely seemed like election.

—Quite a number of our enthusiastic democrats have donned the Cleveland and Thurman hat.

—Mr. F. W. Dillon has been sick for several weeks. Mr. E. Higgins is able to go about again, after a real sick spell.

—Miss Alice Stuart is teaching school near Rev. W. T. B. White's and is greatly liked by all her patrons.

—Prof. Sartori and troupe failed to come last week, but they are expected at C. O. Springs to-night, Wednesday.

—We are having some very warm weather indeed. A good shower fell on Wednesday morning, but it does not seem to have cooled the air much.

—The following persons from here attended the Stanford hop: Misses Anna Fish, Irene Dillon, Jean and Maggie Buchanan and Messrs. J. W. Brooks and M. Livingston.

—Mr. C. A. Smithers, of Vincennes, Ind., who is visiting one of our pretty girls, is stopping at Crab Orchard Springs. Miss Beauregard Stuart is visiting friends in Danville and attending the fair. Messrs. Robert Gaines and John Doyle, of Shelbyville, were the guests of Miss Lura Doores. Mrs. George Miller and children, of Winfield, Kansas, are visiting Mrs. Brooks. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kinnaird, of Lexington, are the guests of her sister, Miss Lizzie Hiatt. Misses Bettie McFall and Lula Stuart have returned from a pleasant visit in the country to Miss Annie Singleton. Mrs. Jennie White, of Somerset, spent several days with Mr. Arch Carson. Mr. J. W. Brooks is here mingling with old friends. Mr. C. A. Smithers and Miss Leila Doores paid a flying visit to Lancaster and Stanford. Messrs. D. S. Hinman and A. E. Gibbons, of Danville, were registered at Crab Orchard Springs several days.

An Elegant Substitute

For oils, salts, pills, and all kinds of bitter, nauseous medicines, is the very agreeable liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. Recommended by leading Physicians. Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Company, San Francisco, Cal.

For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—I made a mistake in saying Mrs. J. B. Johnston had received a policy of $15,000 on her husband's life. It should have been $1,500.

—We are indeed glad to report the sick in our town and those in the country as having near enough recuperated their health to be considered out of danger.

—There will be no more drills of Company G for sometime. The company, under the management of Capt. W. J. Kinnaird, has suspended on account of the warm weather.

—Miss Sallie Noel has accepted a position as clerk for the popular firm of Logan & Brewer. We feel assured she will give entire satisfaction to the merchants and their customers, as she is quite a favorite in our city.

—To sum it up, Lancaster can boast of the following business houses: Three drug stores, five dry goods houses, three hardware establishments, five groceries, three boot and shoe houses, or rather clothing establishments, two confectioneries, two butcher shops, two millinery houses and six dress-making establishments, and we must say the professional men are too numerous to mention.

—The remains of Mrs. Sallie Cook, of Lincoln county, were interred in our beautiful cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. She was the mother of Mrs. Dr. Wm. Huffman and Mr. Tine Cook, of this place, and she proved ever to them and to all who knew her best and loved her most a woman kind, tender and true. Of her it can be said, she was a true Christian, a fond mother, a loving wife and a kind and thoughtful neighbor. She rests now from her labors, tho' her works will follow her. To the sorrow-stricken ones we say, only strive earnestly to imitate her worthy example, and then there will be a blessed reunion beyond the golden gates of that beautiful city.

—L. F. Hubble, after a visit to the folks at home, has returned to his adopted home at Birmingham. H. M. Grant is spending fair week with friends in Danville. Miss Alice Brown, after a protracted visit to friends in Perryville, Lawrenceburg and other points, has returned home. Mrs. Elizabeth Smith is visiting her daughter in Greensburg. Miss Jennie Lackey is now enjoying the delightful retreats of that fashionable summer resort, Dripping Springs. Misses Mattie Beazley, Mamie Curry, Ada Farra and Maud Robinson all attended the Danville fair Tuesday, and J. B. and Miss Maggie Jennings and Misses Anna and Fannie Frazee, and Jake Robinson and John Kirby on Wednesday. Miss Mollie Douglas has returned to her home at Lexington. Ed Price is visiting his sister, Mrs. Dr. Grant, of Danville. Mr. William Sweeney, of Owensboro, is in our city visiting relatives. Geo. D. Burdett has returned from Chicago. Mrs. J. W. Reid, of Hustonville, is with her sister, Miss Carrie Woods.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—All quiet on Brush Creek.

—Teachers' Institute will begin here Monday, 13th inst.

—Mitchell Norton and Pitman on their way home from the election, exchanged shots as long as their cartridges held out, when Pitman struck for the timber.

—H. C. Murrell was out from Louisville to see M. J. Cook, who has been very low. Mr. C. is some better. J. C. Johnson, of the Philadelphia Times, is spending two weeks at Newcomb Hotel, Misses Mollie Talbot and Jennie Crawford, of Gum Sulphur, were visiting here during the week.

—Articles of incorporation have been filed with our county clerk by Cincinnati and Eastern parties under the name of Rockcastle Mineral, Oil and Lumber Co. The capital stock has been placed at $300,000. The principal place of business will be at or near Livingston.

—Jones, the republican candidate for sheriff, only received 140 majority instead of the usual 250 to 300. The democrats were fairly organized and worked. The republicans were not idle, but fought hard. The democrats are jubilant over the result of the battle and claim the county for November.

—George Nichols, a constable at Skaggs voting place, attempted to arrest a boisterous man when Jeff Nichols, a brother, struck the officer in the breast with a knife. Damage was slight. Others interfered, Jeff was knocked down and had a knife thrust under his shoulder blade, from which he will likely die. Party is under arrest.

—No serious trouble occurred at the election here. Mat Pike and Jailer Arnold had some trouble over voting a man and came to blows. Pike fired one shot at Arnold, but did no damage. It was the most boisterous crowd that has gathered on our streets for many a day. At 1 o'clock there were 100 men and boys on the street, more or less intoxicated, attempting to fight, yelling and acting like lunatics. A veritable howling mob. By 7 o'clock they had dispersed and quiet was once more restored.

HON. JAMES B. MCCREARY.

The Faithful and Excellent Congressman Again Nominated by His Party.

The convention to nominate a democratic candidate for Congress met in the Opera House at Danville Wednesday at 12 o'clock. C. D. Chenault, of Madison, Chairman of the District Committee, called the meeting to order and after stating the object called for nominations for permanent officers of the convention.

George T. Farris, of Laurel, was nominated for chairman and elected without a dissenting vote. On taking his seat he delivered a neat little speech of thanks. J. R. Marrs, of the Danville Advocate, and E. C. Walton, of the INTERIOR JOURNAL, were elected secretaries. A Committee on Credentials was then selected with S. V. Rowland, of Boyle, Chairman, as follows: A. M. Portwood, of Anderson, W. E. Walker, of Garrard; J. M. Cook, of Lincoln; George M. Willing, of Madison; J. B. Rhodes, of Mercer; Harrison Bailey, of Shelby; W. H. Anderson, of Spencer; A. T. Anderson, of Rockcastle. There was very little work for this committee and the only report made by Chairman Rowland was that the list of delegates presented by the chairman of the several county committees would be accepted as the accredited delegates from their various counties.

The Committee on Resolutions, was composed of George C. Cohen, of Anderson; J. B. McFerran, of Boyle; W. S. Miller, of Garrard; S. S. Myers, of Lincoln; C. D. Chenault, of Madison; Joe Bell, of Shelby; George A. Vandyke, of Spencer, and Ben Lee Hardin, of Mercer.

After a short absence they returned with the following resolutions which were read by Secretary Marrs and were unanimously adopted by the convention.

Resolved 1. That we approve of the manner in which this Convention was called by the Democratic Executive Committee of this, the Eighth Congressional District.

2. We heartily endorse the nomination of Grover Cleveland, of New York, and Allen G. Thurman, of Ohio, for President and Vice President of the United States, as made by the National Democratic Convention at St. Louis.

3. That we approve and endorse the platform adopted by said National Convention, and the action of the democratic majority in the Lower House of Congress on the passage of the Mills Bill, which reduces taxation, and here pledge our unswerving faith to the principles therein expressed.

4. The record of our Representative, Hon. James B. McCreary, in the National councils, has been such as to meet with the approval of his constituents in this District; we feel confident that the trust so reposed in him will be guarded with that vigilance which has always characterized him as a public servant.

Nominations being in order Judge R. J. Breckinridge in an eloquent and well timed speech nominated the Hon. James B. McCreary. This motion had a number of seconds, which showed how universally popular Gov. McCreary is.

Mr. Harrison Bailey, of Shelby, then suggested that Gov. McCreary's nomination be made by acclamation instead of going through with a vote of the counties. This was also agreed upon and a committee composed of Messrs. R. J. Breckinridge, W. S. Miller and Ben Lee Hardin were appointed by Chairman Farris to wait upon Mr. McCreary and escort him from his hotel to the convention. The committee soon returned with Gov. McCreary and rousing applause rent the hall as he came in. A speech of acceptance was then made and after a few moments of expressions of gratitude, he spoke touching the tariff and other important subjects.

The convention was as harmonious as it was democratic and the speech of Gov. McCreary literally worked the convention to blood heat so thoroughly filled with purely democratic doctrine was it.

W. P. WALTON.

The shaking up that the democracy got last August, on account of its apathy, seems to have had a beneficial result at the election Monday, for the news from all over the State is of the most gratifying nature, the democrats winning handsomely everywhere that any contest was made. Our neighbor, Boyle, seems to deserve the warmest congratulation. She re-elected Bailey sheriff by 316 majority over Tunis, rep., notwithstanding the county went republican by 6 majority a year ago. Bully for Boyle's boys in the trenches. In Madison Bales was elected sheriff over his republican opponent by 523, a gain of nearly 400 over last August. The county will give McCreary 1,000 majority in November. Moseley, dem. nominee, beat the rads, mugwumps and the devil generally by a majority of 19 in Jessamine and the democracy is in the highest kind of feather. Mercer, which went republican by 216 majority last August, elects Smith, democratic candidate for sheriff, by over 800, while democratic magistrates and constables are elected all over the county. There was no contest in Garrard and T. B. Robinson was elected to succeed himself. Rockcastle's usual republican majority of 300 was reduced to 94. Laurel alone is joined to her idols, but the rads have nothing to brag of even there.

In Whitley county the republican candidate for sheriff only has 150 majority against Finley's 1,400 in November 1886. Christian county, heretofore republican, elects a democratic sheriff by over 500. Judge McPherson was elected common pleas judge by a smaller majority. The only thing the rads have to brag on there is the election of a negro constable over a white democrat.

Estill county is usually quite close, but after a hot contest she elected a democratic sheriff by over 200, and Owsley county, which generally goes from 400 to 500 republican, also elected a democrat by 150.

In Kenton county, where the labor element and the republicans claimed that they would increase the majority received by Thobe, the democratic candidate for sheriff gets more votes than both candidates put together, while the democrats capture the other offices. Returns from other portions of Carlisle's district show that he will be returned to Congress by his former majority of 6,000 and over.

The republicans predicted that the unseating of their member in the legislature would burst the democratic party wide open in Greenup, but it doesn't seem to have done it. The democratic majority there is 500 and over. In Mason there is a democratic gain of 1,000, the democratic candidate having received 1,182 majority. The republicans are naturally dumfounded.

Even Casey comes to the front with an increased democratic majority. Judge J. Boyle Stone writes us that Wm. Myers was elected sheriff over George Drye, republican, by over 100, notwithstanding the rads put forth their greatest efforts. The piques and the speakings went for naught. In Mason county the rads likewise made a terrific struggle, but were snowed under by 1,000 majority. Fayette elects Rogers, dem. by 1,500 majority. But why continue the glorious recital? It is the same way all over the State and the result is but an earnest of what the democracy can and will do in November, when Cleveland will restore the majority to 50,000.

The news of the death of Capt. Wallace Gruelle, which occurred suddenly at Indianapolis Monday night of inflammation of the bladder, will cause a pang of sorrow in the breast of everyone who knew his sterling worth and lovable qualities. He was born in Kentucky 57 years ago and up till a few months ago made it his home, following at various points and in a most earnest way the profession which he commenced as city editor of the Louisville Courier when Prentice edited it. Recently he went to Indianapolis and taking charge of the Labor Record was doing yeoman service for the cause of democracy when death came so unawares. His loss will be felt politically as it will be deplored privately by all who knew him.

PERRY BELMONT and Ira Davenport, a democrat and a republican Congressman from New York, have been in their seats just six days each in the last six months. Gov. McCreary has had to take the place of the former as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, but it matters not to the public at large if the latter's place is not filled at all.

Fisk and Brooks are the first to write letters accepting their nominations. There is nothing new or specially important in either, though both show an earnestness worthy of better success than they will achieve.

MAJ. GENERAL SCHOFIELD succeeds to the command of the armies of the U. S., unless the President chooses to appoint either of the other two major generals.

BLAINE'S ship had not been sighted at last accounts and the jamboree still waits.

The handsome compliment of a third nomination for Congress was unanimously conferred on Gov. James B. McCreary at Danville Wednesday, the particulars of which are given in another column. No man has served his constituency better or his country more than he, a fact which is duly appreciated by the democrats of the 8th district, who have given him his last two nominations without opposition in his own party and elected him by overwhelming majorities over any opposition that the republicans have put up. That he will be reelected is one of the absolutely certain political events, and it will be the subject of congratulation both to the State and country at large.

GEN. SHERIDAN's body had hardly cooled before Senator Farwell introduced a bill to pension his widow at $5,000 a year. This petty record maker's haste was to get the bulge on the boys, who are up to all the tricks to catch the soldier vote. But why Gen. Sheridan's widow should get any more than any other widow, when her husband died from natural causes, not brought on by the war, we are not able to tell.

SHERIFF ROGERS, of Fayette, went all the way to Arizona and captured Tom Waltz, the negro who brutally murdered Lee Smith, white, and reaching home the day of the election, an admiring constituency re-elected him by a majority of over 1,500. Waltz had joined the army and was waltzing around after the Indians. He will now likely dance a difficult figure and will do it in mid-air.

JUDGE BUSH, who was appointed for the purpose, has collected $10,338.67 of the Tate L. O. U. S. and has turned the amount into the treasury. This is doing pretty well. Let him continue to prosecute his good work. It is believed at Frankfort that a sufficient amount of these and other claims will be collected to reduce the shortage to $150,000.

THE GOOSE who ran against Sheriff Clark in Jefferson county and Louisville, came within 8,000 votes of being elected. The negroes voted for him because Clark hung Patterson and but for that he would not have been known in the race. Harry N. is evidently as much of a goose in nature as he is in name. The office is worth $15,000 a year.

THE INDIANA republicans, after adopting a platform of high sounding but specious promises, nominated Gen. Hovey for governor on the first ballot. Gov. Porter stuck to his decision not to accept the nomination under any circumstances, hence the selection of this comparatively unknown and much less popular individual.

THE HONORS were about even in the various local option contests in the State Monday. Owen remains dry by 352; Woodford gives the wets 14 majority; Washington likewise went wet by over 500; Millersburg precinct, Bourbon, gave a dry majority of 57, against 125 two years ago; Junction City's wet majority 90, and so on.

WE are sorry for the editor of the Louisville Post. In the anguish of his soul he exclaims: "Our local elections are becoming altogether too pure. After 10 o'clock yesterday morning it was impossible to obtain even as much as a dime for one's suffrage." Poor fellow, we wish him better luck next time.

THE OWENSBORO Messenger contains a good likeness of Col. E. Polk Johnson, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, and the much-loved president of the K. P. A. The sketch of his life, which accompanies the cut, and the tribute to his genius, are even more faithful than the likeness.

IF Gen. Bradley thinks at all, of which there is much natural doubt, he evidently thinks, after Monday's election, "I am not such a h—l of a man as I imagined. On the contrary, a very small potato, with few in a hill, more appropriately describes me as a factor in Kentucky politics."

THERE are now 561,800 pensioners on the rolls and they are gaining at the rate of 5,000 a month. Since the war the government has disbursed over ten hundred thousand millions of dollars in pensions. Patriotism, or what goes for it, is well paid for in this beautiful land of ours.

WHEN Herbert F. Alkerson, of Louisville, told his sweetheart how dearly he loved her, she flippantly remarked, "Oh, you make me so tired." This was too much for Herbert's sensitive nature, so he went home and gave her a good long rest by taking poison.

JUDGE PRYOR, who was reelected to the bench of the Court of Appeals Monday, has held office since 1868, and has each time been elected without opposition. A higher compliment could not be paid to his worth as a man and standing as a jurist.

IT is said that Finley declines to meet Gen. Wolford on the stump. This shows both sense and discretion. Perhaps he has had a conference with Col. Swope and been informed that fooling with a buzz-saw is a bad undertaking.

ALABAMA went almost solidly democratic. Gov. Seay's majority is overwhelming and the legislature elected is five to one of the same faith.

CHICKERING news comes from all parts of the 11th district, especially from Barren, which promises to give Gen. Wolford 1,500 majority. Editor J. M. Richardson, of the Times, writes us that the democracy is thoroughly aroused to the importance of defeating Finley and they are going to do it.

DRIPPING SPRINGS.

Can boast of the finest water in the world, the most prosperous season, the oldest couple in the U. S., the most popular actress, the most eloquent poetical reader, as well as the most graceful dancer, (ask Judge Denny about the two last) and the only young lady who was never in love and she is such an adorable creature that even the Cars will leave the track and come down here to accommodate her; also of 78 arrivals yesterday—28 people and 50 dogs—(fox hounds.) Another party will arrive from Louisville and Lebanon Friday and 12 ladies are to come from Hustonville Tuesday. Dripping Springs will keep open this season until October to accommodate all those who could not get rooms here and those who were here early and expressed a desire to make another visit in September. About the last of August or the 1st of September there will be a free excursion train run from Lebanon Junction and Stanford to Dripping Springs, provided the crowd should thin down so I can give them rooms. There will be no charge for conveyance on cars or hack, and the rate at the hotel will be only $1 per day for the excursionists. Due notice will be given. We have a dance every night and everybody dances except the preachers and they look on and want to; as I write the sound of the music from the ball-room, the baying of the hounds in the fox chase and the falling water from that "grand old spring that drips and drips" are all commingled together and are wafted by the gentle summer zephyrs to my ears and all combined make so grand a concert that I can not resist the temptation to join in the dance as they are now calling me, so good-bye. Resp't.

D. G. SLAUGHTER.
P. S. There are 65 visitors here now. All cottages are full for two weeks. Ten vacant rooms for boarders. Come at once. The Crab Orchard people are especially invited to the ball Saturday night.

Henderson, from the same county, also charged with murder, says he sold his place adjoining for $40,000.

WORLD BEATERS.—Superintendent J. C. King sends us a couple of cabbage from the Crab Orchard Springs garden, which is run by Louie Fischer, of Erfurt, Germany, which lay the one Brer. Dickerson sent us in the shade. The variety is the Early Flat Dutch and one weighs 12 pounds and the other 18½. The latter measured 3 feet 8 inches across the top from edge of leaves and around the edge of same just 11 feet. Mr. King adds that they have had some even larger, but thought nothing of it till the Dickerson head showed up. It is the ground, he thinks, and if anybody wants to raise some like them he has only to buy a lot near C. O.

A Letter From the Oldest Couple in the U. S.

(To the Editor Interior Journal.)
DIPPING SPRINGS, August 7, 1888.—Myself and wife have been here four weeks to-day. When we left home we were both very feeble, with but little appetite. My wife was bedfast all the month of March and could not walk without assistance. For years I have fallen off in the summer about 10 pounds and last summer was reduced to 150 pounds, but since here I have increased and now weigh 170, and my wife has improved more than I have. There are several varieties of water, but we have used principally the chalybeate as a tonic and appetizer and we both have improved wonderfully in strength and appetite. I can with confidence recommend the water to all feeble, dyspeptic persons. The table is supplied with almost every article of food in abundance and well cooked, and in fact the only objection one can have, there is such a variety you are tempted to eat too much.

The proprietor of the Springs and his estimable wife are assiduous in their efforts to make their visitors comfortable and certainly deserve encouragement. One thing which was particularly gratifying to me was that the whole tone of the visitors was of a moral and religious character. I never had a smell of liquor and never heard an oath or vulgar expression, and I am so well pleased that should I be spared to live another year, and no providential hindrance, I expect to visit the Springs the next season.

Truly, J. G. CHURN.

—Mr. Ed Davison, who is quite ill, confessed religion Wednesday and was baptized by Eld. John Bell Gibson.

Beauty

Is desired and admired by all. Among the things which may best be done to enhance personal beauty is the daily use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. No matter what the color of the hair, this preparation gives it a lustre and pliancy that adds greatly to its charm. Should the hair be thin, harsh, dry, or turning gray, Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore the color, bring out a new growth, and render the old soft and shiny. For keeping the scalp clean, cool, and healthy, there is no better preparation in the market.

"I am free to confess that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor has convinced me that it is a genuine article. Its use has not only caused the hair of my wife and daughter to be Abundant and Glossy, but it has given my rather stunted mustache a respectable length and appearance."—R. Britton, Oakland, Ohio.

"My hair was coming out (without any assistance from my wife, either). I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor, using only one bottle, and I now have as fine a head of hair as any one could wish for."—R. T. Schmittou, Dickson, Tenn.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor in my family for a number of years, and regard it as the best hair preparation I know of. It keeps the scalp clean, the hair soft and lively, and preserves the original color. My wife has used it for a long time with most satisfactory results."—Benjamin M. Johnson, M. D., Thomas Hill, Mo.

"My hair was becoming harsh and dry, but after using half a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor it grew black and glossy. I cannot express the joy and gratitude I feel."—Mabel C. Hardy, Delavan, Ill.

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

Samuel C. Lackey.

On the evening of the 11th inst., Samuel C. Lackey, Esq., died at his home in Cuero. For some time he had been a patient sufferer with a complication of diseases, and had just returned home, the evening before his death, from San Antonio, where he had been under the treatment of the eminent Dr. Herff. While his death was anticipated within the next fortnight, it was not apprehended so suddenly. But yesterday, surrounded by his family and his intimate friends, he spoke as rationally and composedly, and his mind seemed to be as active and clear, and his judgment as sound as ever. His last hours were indeed a fitting close, a perfect reflex of his whole life. He had struggled manfully against the gnawing, insidious disease, which was slowly, but surely, destroying his vital spark; with his keen mental eye he beheld the spectre of death; he did not dread it, but approached it in that reverential calm with which he had faced it on the battle field and with that mental composure with which he had met the great problems of an active and stormy life—without a tremor of precipitate fear or confusion. He felt that he must die and that he did not care to pass out of this world in a strange city. He must return to the fond scenes of his hearth and home and there, amid the family circle and a host of dear friends, bid adieu to life.

Born on the 23d day of January, 1833, in Lincoln county, Ky., he enjoyed the many educational advantages of that grand old State and graduated in the law class of 1854 with the afterwards distinguished John C. Breckenridge at Centre College, Ky. In the year 1855 he immigrated to Texas and settled at Clinton, in this county, and engaged in the practice of his profession, in which he soon became eminently successful. For some time—until the breaking out of the war—he was associated in the law with our esteemed fellow citizen, Capt. W. R. Friend, which I believe constituted the first law firm in DeWitt county and one of the leading firms in Western Texas. When the war broke out the law firm was dissolved. Both volunteered their services to the State when she called upon her sons to take up arms for the lost cause. Mr. Lackey served faithfully in Walter's battalion from the beginning to the close of the struggle. At the close of the war he was first lieutenant in Capt. January's company in said battalion, having passed through all the great battles in which that distinguished command participated. The war over, he assiduously addressed himself to the practice of the law and set about filling the waste places that the ravages of war had made. He counseled moderation and reconstruction and was largely instrumental in this section in re-inaugurating civil government. In 1869 he was elected district attorney and for two years served with distinction before the able Judge Holt. In 1868 he formed a law partnership with John W. Stayton, the present able chief justice, which, for a number of years, was considered one of the leading law firms of the State, and which continued until Judge Stayton was called to the bench. On October 25, 1885, Mr. Lackey was married to Miss Nannie McMorrie, who survives him with five sons to mourn his loss; their only daughter, Jennie, preceding her father in death on the 8th of January, 1881. As a lawyer and an advocate he was true to his client and scrupulously faithful to his professional obligations; accurate in judgment, acute in perception, tenacious, earnest and logical in debate, he was a powerful adversary in the court-house, yet he never forgot or ignored his duty as a citizen, and was fair, just and courteous in dealing with his fellow men, pronounced, positive and fearless in denouncing the wrong, and ready and willing at all times to stand by the right, not impulsive or indiscreet, but calm and deliberate, he was cautious in arriving at conclusions, but firm and courageous in maintaining them when once formed. As husband and father he was kind and affectionate and esteemed his family above everything on earth. As a friend he was as true as the needle to the pole; not lavish in promises, but prolific and unstinted in conferring kind offices and favors upon his friends, of whom he had many. He was as positive in friendship as he was in all things, and by no means indifferent in forming an attachment, but once formed it was never feigned or fagging, but was valued by him with the tenderness of a woman's affection. In religion he was liberal, yet reserved in his opinions, but withal a firm believer in the beneficent results of Christianity. He was baptized in the Presbyterian church faith and affiliated with that church. Thus in this short sketch, which, for its brevity, can not do full justice to the subject, we are called upon to again chronicle and mourn the death of a good man, husband, father and citizen; sadly missed by a wife than whom none can be more affectionate, gentle and true; by children who fully feel the deep and irreparable loss they have sustained; by friends who mingle their tears with those of wife, children and relatives in this their sad bereavement. Peace to his ashes.—[Amicus in Cuero, Texas, Bulletin.]

Some Kinds of Fellows Who Wish to Teach.

Prof. S. J. Pulliam, one of the examiners of the applicants for common school teacher's certificates, gives the following as a sample of some of the amusing answers of those who imagine they know enough to teach:

What are the uses of grammar and why does not the study of it always lead to correct speech?
Grammar is useful because it helps us in business and it does not always lead to correct speech because we don't speak correctly.

Give the difference between true and bank discount?
True discount is interest paid on the face of the note, while bank discount is interest deducted three days beforehand called the days of grace.

How do good and bad reading differ?
Good reading is euphonious and melodious while bad reading is not euphonious neither is it melodious.

Why is good writing important?
Because it always looks nice.

Give some account of Patrick Henry's action and speech in the House of Burgesses?
Patrick Henry spoke eloquently and magnificently and it was there that he gave utterance to the well-known expression, "I came, I saw, I conquered."

What American general was a traitor?
George Washington.

What caused loss to the war of 1812?
Slavery was the principal cause.

Give a brief account of the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia.

It was a great acceleration of our dependence.

How may the teacher know whether he is advancing in his profession?
When the children all honor, obey and respect him he is advancing.

What hindrances prevent teaching from making better progress as a profession?
Muscles of the face, forearm and stomach, also the muscles of the legs. (Two gave the above.)

Of what does mathematical and physical geography tell us when the eccentricity of the earth's orbit passes through the obliquity of the ecliptic, while the other tells us about the political situation of the world.

Renews Her Youth.
Mrs. Phoebe Chesley Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: I am 71 years old, and have been afflicted with kidney complaint and lameness for many years, could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from pain and soreness and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth and removed completely all disease and pain. Try a bottle and see it, at A. R. Penny's Drug Store.

Worth Knowing.
Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cough and running into Consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it.—Trial bottle free at A. R. Penny's Drug Store.

Ask For Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
Sarsaparilla, and be sure you get it, when you want the best blood-purifier. With its forty years of unexampled success in the cure of Blood Diseases, you can make no mistake in preferring Ayer's Sarsaparilla to any other. The fore-runner of modern blood medicines, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is still the most popular, being in greater demand than all others combined.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is selling faster than ever before. I never hesitate to recommend it."—George W. Whitman, Druggist, Albany, Ind.

"I am safe in saying that my sales of Ayer's Sarsaparilla far exceed those of any other, and it gives thorough satisfaction."—L. H. Bush, Des Moines, Iowa.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's Pills are the best selling medicines in my store. I can recommend them conscientiously."—C. Bickhaus, Pharmacist, Roseland, Ill.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always keep them in stock, as they are staples. 'There is nothing so good for the youthful blood' as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—R. L. Parker, Fox Lake, Wis.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla gives the best satisfaction of any medicine I have in stock. I recommend it, or, as the Doctors say, 'I prescribe it over the counter.' It never fails to meet the cases for which I recommend it, even where the doctors' prescriptions have been of no avail."—C. F. Calhoun, Monmouth, Kansas.

M. A. S. L. M. has for 47 years cured LIVER TROUBLE, BILIOUSNESS, DYSPEPSIA, SICK HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, SOUR STOMACH, ETC. Rev. T. B. Reams, Pastor M. E. Church, Adams, Tenn., writes: "I think I should have been dead but for your Genuine M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine. I have sometimes had to substitute 'Zeilin's stuff' for your Medicine, but it didn't answer the purpose."

Dr. J. R. Graves, Editor The Baptist, Memphis, Tenn., says: "I received a package of your Liver Medicine, and have used half of it. It works like a charm. I want no better Liver Regulator and certainly no more of Zeilin's mixture."
